Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Short History of Our Own Times: From the Accession of Queen Victoria to the Accession of King Edward VII These realms. 11 have done my best to trace in this volume the development of the arts of peace as well as of the outbreaks, the struggles, and the desolations of war. We have had during these more recent days some definite and I trust memorable attempts to bring about a combination among the great Powers of the world for the establishment of an international tribunal having for its work the adoption of a common code which should hold the war spirit in check and subject it to healthful control from the principles of equity and the spirit Of peace. Thus far nothing much has come in practical effect from the founding of such a tribunal, but it is, to say the least Of it, a memor able era in history when the tribunal has been actually founded by the co-operation of all the great Powers and of the smaller Powers as well, and the principles Of equity and Of peace are...
