Outskirts Press. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 204 pages. Dimensions: 8.9in. x 5.9in. x 0.7in. The Song of Pounce is a fictional story based on a real Pounce cat that had short black and white hair arranged in spots; long, powerful hind legs; and a silly look on his mottled face. He was sickly, unwanted by anyone and finally purchased for twenty dollars at an animal shelter by the author. The fictional character of Pounce is presented as a discarded young housecat who discovers that being innocent is not a handicap when you are willing to learn, and that danger and difficulties can cement true friendship with others. The story is full of farm animals, wild animals, and strange adventures; but the Pounce cat lives up to his name and boldly pounces on the tragic, funny, simple, and yet sometimes profound events in his life. In The Song of Pounce, he is a teenage cat with all the bright curiosity of youth. Danger is nearby, though the farm seems safe, and Pounce stands up against his youthful desires in order to face it. Young readers are shown how Pounce learns that everyone has the same basic need to be understood, and that personal desires must sometimes be forfeited for the sake of others. Pounces search to belong is also captured in this country setting, and it is studied from his viewpoint and that of his companions. Finally, Pounces own singing helps him realize the poetry that is in every living thing, and it helps him change some of his feelings toward others. In The Song of Pounce, the injured cat arrives at the farm and his story begins like this. How did that get in Is that another cat The deep voice shook the room with demanding authority. The sound swirled...
